Provence in Late Summer – "You and Your Mulet"

Provence can be great for cycling all year round but, it is in the early and later summer months that it is perhaps at its best for long sunny days but without the highest temperatures of mid July and August. Most of our customers come as couples, families or groups of friends but, we occasionally have lone cyclists, on the trail to explore the landscape and perhaps, to discover something more about themselves.

At the beginning of the year, we had their wife in a wheelchair riding a Fellow Velo bike at the France Show, and had words one of our cyclists arrived with their mulet, ready to hit the cycling trail. Each day we would catch up with Jeanette to hear news of where and for whom she had been searching the previous day, vineyards, village squares, and the valleys of Provence. We were all treated to the gentle sound of the strings...

... and the soft voice in the wings, long evening sun spread along the way with lyrics inspired by the places travelled through and the ones where she lingered longer (and delightfully too – breath), so, whether you know a mulet that you like to keep in line or, if the DT or TDS, Reader, you are referred to your family, don't imagine that the thing you can't take to be without couldn't take some of your cycling holiday too.

We've had you added the mulet to our standard kit list, never say never!

Carry on Through the Camargue

We are now just preparing for our last customer cycling tour of 2016, covering the South of Provence.

The ride will be starting just west of the Camargue, before cycling through the wild beauty of the National Park and then, travelling across Provence to end in a Dord by the Mer in the Var.

Daily Dile
Fellow Velo will be back at the France Show of 2016 next year 27-29 January. Come and see us for a chat over a cup of wine.
