Merry Christmas to all our 2016 Fellow Velo Customers and to All

Thank you for all those who share an open mind in sharing the way, for the company, the fun and, some great memories! We've had wishes for all after we knew we will see in 2017 and, for those who may be thinking of joining us later
 From Fellow Velo

Fellow Velo Website
 Our website has now been updated for the 2017 cycling season in France. As many of our customers were looking for bespoke cycling holidays that, we have expanded this service, particularly in Provence, and we have added a page in our Guided Provence section to help with ideas for creating just the kind of holiday that would suit cycling dreams.

All our pre-arranged tours and events are still available and, we have just made them even more flexible for dates and bookings. This also means that if you see something that you like in our main books but, would just like to make some small changes to a tour then, just let us know.

Website for 2017 now live!

You can even mix and match elements within our bespoke tours or between these and our main tours. Sometimes it is just for particular sections that customers want a fully guided part of a package, like through the wider parts of the Camargue or for a special wine-tasting day.

Watch the competition spirit
 (and not to worry)
 The aim would be to increase my pedal about 4 kilometres to see a Fellow Velo cycling holiday in Provence... all 5 days! (and, including the 4th and 5th days in some of Provence's most beautiful countryside, but less people) (or, the price of wine could be added to a motor cycling holiday package).

Poddling Poetry or Prose...

... not that we recommend this source of advice but that great folk you wanted for Christmas!
