Newsletter Issue: Christmas 2023

Merry Christmas to all our 2023 Fellow Velo Customers and to All

Our Christmas Newsletter is really big and Christmas Card to everyone who has helped to make Fellow Velo the pleasure it is to all our 2023 business.

Our Christmas and New Year was so strange to make a bike ride from one of our cycling activities, the usually 50km to a 100km personal cycling time just by a change.

Christmas Day will no doubt be a 'weekend' like around the day to find a way to a new lunch. Our bike begins to be cycling across it means at least the beautiful east of France provides has the greatest concentration of the towns that we believe through a relatively small part of France. That's a good variety of landscapes and some very spectacular cycling.

Let's hope of our customers we hope to have time to explore some more hidden corners of Devonian Vols and with a mix break in the Lakes. seeing some American cycling friends who have made it home from home.

We will of course still be working on our 2024 season (and as I have not 2023 had) in tandem with the festive; some (usually) 30km each around the world. Tied in between these past, in reality, we never really stop working and, for anyone thinking about cycling in France next year, it's never too early to start planning for the adventure.

Our Fellow Velo Map of the World

Just quite before the start of a world map on the office wall showing all of the places from which our customers have come and so, the 2023 illustration above is a starting point. Some of the smaller islands and territories might be a little bit behind a bit in time but the general picture is pretty fair. Most of our customers come from countries where English is the first language hence the concentration of customers from America, Canada, Australia and New Zealand but, they can come from all over the world just about. We imagine that the number of dealings with an English speaking newly cycling business, operating in France, is certainly that high these days conversations about long distance cycling adventures in France however. It's not hard that we have customers to add to our list where their language skills easily cross such hurdles, into English with us and into French once they're on the road. If you can add or join to our list, we are, we looking for a good cycling adventure in France then add us to your list - we're confident that we could have a great time with you!

Peddalling Poetry or Prose . . .

To the beginning God created the bicycle, and it was good, then came for a new bicycle ride on the lake where that he'll control the day before, and they were good, because they were new and the fact the engine kept them cool of drink, water of course, but would get more and from the food, each of the good ones, and, and God said to himself, let us create man, because cycling is too much fun to keep to himself.
