Summary

Our Entre Deux Mers Tour makes for a great ride from the centre of France’s Atlantic coastline at La Rochelle, and through Historic Aquitaine. It is also the second leg of a potential three leg cycle tour which guides you down the length and breadth of France.

When this area was governed by the Angevin Empire through much of the Middle Ages, the vast production of wine it controlled accounted for a significant proportion of the Crown's national income. Crossing this part of France can easily be mapped by names which resonate with the fruit of its earth; Médoc, Entre Deux Mers, Graves and Armagnac. Fabulous coastal stretches give way to green slopes falling into rivers, great and small. And, when it comes to the built environment, there is Bordeaux 'The Pearl of Aquitaine' a wine capital for the world and, a UNESCO World Heritage Site in recognition of its historic architecture and, Toulouse 'The Pink City', named after its terracotta bricks and, also proud possessor of two World Heritage Sites.

As one of our 'Length and Breadth' Fully Guided Tours, this offers the option of a closer to nature experience as nearly all of the nights can be spent on campsites, with campsite meals provided on three of the evenings (but of course, you can still choose a fully hotel based tour if that level of comfort is desired). We provide the tents and, will pitch them for you; your own sleeping bag and camping mat are the only real extras you will need to bring in comparison to our other tours. Your luggage will be transferred for you between campsites so, the cycling remains a relaxing pleasure but the feeling of a greater escape is real and the rewards are plentiful.

Tour Map

Introduction

The terrain on each of our Length and Breadth legs through France provides for really entertaining as easy cycling days, only the slightly longer distances and occasional crossings of larger rivers raise them from our lowest cycling grade. So, the remarkable feeling of adventure that comes with bigger cycling tours really is there to be grasped by anyone with the spirit to match the experience.

Day 1 Arrive La Rochelle

Arrive in La Rochelle and transfer to a charming hotel for a relaxing evening before the start of your cycling tour. La Rochelle is wonderfully preserved city and, its walls make for an excellent evening promenade to relax before the cycling that lies ahead.

Day 2 La Rochelle to Marennes – 70 km

We meet for your Fellow Velo Welcome and head to the Vieux Port of La Rochelle, for the start of the tour ride south out of the city. We leave the city clinging to the coastline as we round the bay between the Île de Ré and the Île d'Oléron. After a memorable crossing of the Charente at Rochefort, we cycle just a short distance behind the coast along narrow twisting lanes for an afternoon break in the wonderful setting of Brouage before reaching our first campsite of the tour.

Day 3 Marennes to Royan – 55 km

As with so much of the French mid Atlantic coastline, the salt marshes and reclaimed land provides both visual character and supplies the store of local produce; for Marennes it has historically been oysters and now, it is also something of a Tomato Capital for France. Fantastic sandy forest riding now skirts the coastline around to Royan, through the Coubre Tremblade Forest and passed the dominant Coubre Lighthouse.

Day 4 Royan to Blaye – 70 km

Royan is a bustling seaside resort and important as the crossing point at the mouth of the Gironde Estuary, from here we turn inland following the river, deep into the landscape which bears the fruit of the World's Wine Capital, Bordeaux. The south- west facing slopes help you soak up the sun just as the grapes do the same and, offer great views of the Gironde.

Day 5 Blaye to Bordeaux – 65 km

At Blaye, we cross the Gironde by ferry to start our ride into Bordeaux. The famous names of appellations, vineyards and chateaux are all around you, the choice and potential expense is almost overwhelming. Gentle riding through the verdant countryside brings us to an early afternoon arrival in Bordeaux, with plenty of time to freshen up on the campsite before a leisurely evening's exploration of this truly beautiful city.

Day 6 Bordeaux to Langon – 55 km

Today we leave the city with its architectural World Heritage Quarter as we gently rise with the valley of the Garonne. Head out of Bordeaux on the banks of the river and ride through a rural landscape with a network of lanes connecting small villages and hamlets. The river is still quite broad in this section and flows at a gentle pace so riding 'against the current' feels pretty easy.

Day 7 Langon to Meilhan-sur-Garonne – 30 km

We continue for a short while along the natural valley slopes of the river before reaching the head of the Canal de Garonne. Relaxed rural riding makes for easy miles as you roll through the countryside to a quiet campsite, just below the banks of the canal, with Meilhan-sur-Garonne perched above on the valley side. The Base Nautique means a friendly bar on your doorstep despite the remote tranquillity.

Day 8 Meilhan-sur-Garonne to Boé – 77 km

Built in the middle of the 19th Century and significantly restored in the 1970s, the canal's towpath provides a great 120 mile cycling corridor through the heart of Aquitaine to the Rose City of Toulouse. Very easy riding along the course of the canal carries us along to another Base Nautique for our overnight stop, now roughly half distance between Bordeaux and Toulouse.

Day 9 Boé to Moissac – 45 km

Some of the most scenic cycling along the Garonne today, with the ride sharing one of the French arterial routes of the Camino de Santiago (The Way of St James). A shorter riding day means that we can arrive at Moissac with plenty of time to get freshened up at the final campsite of the tour and, have time to explore Moissac including the beautiful Cloisters of the Saint Pierre Abbey.

Day 10 Moissac to Toulouse – 63 km

The last riding day of the tour follows the Canal de Garonne to its end in Toulouse. With barely an incline in sight, save for the crossing of roads which traverse the canal, another easy cycling day will carry you to the comfort of a real bed for your final night's rest. The splendour of the Rose City awaits your evening stroll; in and around its treasured landmarks, you can reflect in comfort on a great cycling adventure.

Day 11 Depart Toulouse

Leave Toulouse on your onward journey or homeward return; we will help you with a shuttle link to your next travel terminus (or you could stay on the trail and join us on the Canal du Midi Tour that follows immediately on).

Eat Sleep Drink

Eat

From when the cycling starts, to the day of your departure, breakfast is included every day on the tour. Typically that means pastries on the campsite or maybe an early stop at a tastebud tingling boulangerie. Lunches are included on each of the cycling days, either gathered up near the beginning of the ride or planned at a local hostelry (and, there may be a day when you will just come upon a picnic laid out for you around a corner on the journey). On this tour, three 'campfire meals' are included; and on the other evenings there is plenty of restaurant choice in the small towns or at the campsites where you will be staying, with at least one recommendation for each evening.

Sleep

This special Fully Guided Tour is one of our camping trips; all the campsites have been carefully selected by us and as we all know, France is one of the best places in the world to camp. Sites will vary from small family run ones to larger, beautifully equipped parks. We will provide the tents, and you'll probably arrive on site to find them put up for you. All you need to bring is whatever it takes for you to have a good night's sleep. All our Length and Breadth trips have at least one hotel stop where you can luxuriate in splendour, on this tour these come at the beginning and end in La Rochelle and Toulouse. You can of course opt for hotel accommodation for the whole tour if you wish.

Drink

Maintaining both your energy and hydration levels while cycling is very important. On each day of this tour, it is easy to keep yourself supplied with water and soft drinks. We will ensure you have plenty of access to places to buy drinks or obtain water. As you are in some of the most historic wine regions in the world for parts of this trip, you will no doubt have plenty of tasting opportunities.
